National Audubon Society membership

You can also join the National Audubon Society through us. First year membership in the National Audubon Society is $20 (and subsequent renewals will be $35). You will receive Audubon magazine, an award-winning bimonthly magazine with excellent writing and photography on birding nature, and environmental issues. After your first year, you will receive renewal notices for National Audubon directly from them. This membership is independent of your local membership, as the National Audubon Society is a separate organization from local Audubon chapters. If you would like to also join National Audubon, please enclose a check for $20 payable to the National Audubon Society, and we will forward it to them.
